Center for Veterans in Higher Education Leadership

To attract and empower veterans into leadership roles for the collaboration, creativity, and principled stewardship necessary to sustain and advance America's competitive economic advantage through the promise of higher education.

Higher education in America has a distinct set of challenges in the 21st Century

Developing a critical mass of adaptive leaders is paramount to higher education's success.

Research demonstrates military service provides an untapped avenue for the development of skills and competencies required for success.

There is no support organization for the education and advancement of veterans into higher education careers.

To attract and empower veterans into leadership roles for the collaboration, creativity, and principled stewardship necessary to sustain and advance America's competitive economic advantage through the promise of higher education.

Provide high-quality educational opportunities for people at every stage of life, whenever and wherever they seek to learn.

Develop and sustain a nurturing university culture where diversity and community are enduring sources of strength.

Empower and sustain a culture of collaboration, agility, and innovation throughout the university.

The Bogue Center will be a national beacon for attracting and supporting veterans as adaptive leaders into higher education.

Advocate for their needs with local, state, and federal policymakers.

Increase public-private financial support for their academic journey.

Represent their interests within the global system of post-secondary universities.

Contribute to the body of scholarship about veterans in higher education.

The background of the slide features a blue-tinted image of two soldiers in full combat gear. One soldier is in the foreground, wearing a cap and a face mask, looking towards the right. The second soldier is behind him, holding a rifle. The overall scene is set against a solid blue background.

“... universities are investments in the power of ideas and the intellectual promise of our students, investments in the search for truth and the cultivation of mind. They are instruments of scientific, technical, and economic development. Never tell me, however, that [they] are not guardians of human dignity/civility, guarantors of democracy and do not touch heart, soul, and spirit of their students and our communities.”
